These clinics are designed to breakdown the individual skills needed to be a successful basketball player. Clinics are necessary for players to understand the fundamentals of basketball so they can incorporate individual skills into the team game. This is a great opportunity for your son or daughter to participate with coaches that know the game and the advantages of sharpening individual basketball skills.

The clinics are concentrated on the following areas of basketball:

11/21 – Shooting / Ball Handling

11/28 – Passing / Rebounding

12/5 – Defensive Skills

12/12 – Review of all Skills

12/19 – 3 on 3 games

Coaching staff:

Dan Young – BMHS 2 year Lettermen, Assistant Coach, Benedictine College.

John Everhart – BMHS 2 year Lettermen, Regis University Basketball Player

Tyler Hensen – BMHS 1 year Lettermen, Metro State Baseball Player

John Gates – BMHS 2 year Lettermen, Student at Regis University
